Dr Samuel Saltoon

BMed (dist), FRACGP

My Story...

Samuel (he/him) graduated from the University of Newcastle and has a strong interest in sexual health, mental health and preventative medicine. Sam is an HIV S100 prescriber (for HIV medication and PrEP) and has completed his OTAC addiction medicine training. He enjoys working with marginalized populations, previously working at The Orange Aboriginal Medical Service, The Forensic Hospital and Kirketon Road Centre.

Samuel also offers cosmetic injectable treatments.

Samuel loves learning about new cultures and travelling, which has taken him to work in Emergency in South Africa, the Philippines and in homeless healthcare in London.

He aims to bring a compassionate, empathetic and preventative approach to all his patients. In his spare time, Sam enjoys running, swimming, heading outside and soaking up the sun with family and friends.
